from the Commissioner would relieve his office and the Deputy Commissioner at Hoshiarpur that the applicant failed in making up his mind in time and therefore the Chamar of Naginkhamarkandi Kanungoi in the year Bikramsamvat to construct a tank near the village and grant it to him on the condition that he should supply for the first two years daily the whole irrigation below the tank so constructed, containing thereof to irrigate the land under Nawabpur Chaur. The tank is reported to have been recently brought into good order. After the death of the said Chamar his grandchildren (his own children having predeceased him) relinquished the K.G. village which consequently has since been managed and settled as a Government village. The Deputy Commissioner recommended that the Government may during the position of the Chamar should kindly agree to the prayer of the latter and grant remission of the assessment to the applicant's land in perpetuity on account of their having the tank in question executed. Necessary papers be called from the applicant for any consideration.

Letter from the Superintendent, Pilgrim Revenue Survey, No. 140 dated 2nd June 1873, submitting a recommendation for the remission of ¼ assessment on lands impacted by a tank constructed by Rajah Sudhanda Thalli in the late Sudhanda Thalli in the late Sudhanda Thalli

Letter from the Superintendent No 569 of 22 Oct 1874, submitting further particulars in the case with reference proceedings

Order thereon: —

The general principle is that all subordinate tanks created by an Inamdar determine on the termination of the Inam tenure — Applying this principle to the present case, we are bound to carry out the contract between the Inamdar and the tenders of the tank, but as a new work was actually constructed by the applicant ~~grantee~~, and the Inam applicable to ancient cases in Southern Mahratta, a quarter remission of the assessment on the entire ryotwar land is ordered to be made in the accounts.

(And it is ~~ordered~~ that on such condition, the Inam will grant him)
